

CONFIRMED BY SENATE

Edward D. White is Chief Justice

OF THE SUPREME COURT

Van DeVenter and Lamar New Associate Justices—Knapp Goes from Commerce Commission to New Court of Commerce.

Washington, Dec. 13.—Edward D. White of Louisiana, associate justice of the supreme court, was confirmed yesterday by the Senate to be chief justice of the court. Confirmation of the two new-appointed associate justices will follow later. The quick confirmation of Justice White is due to the fact that the Senate already had passed upon his qualifications.

These nominations also were sent to the Senate:

To be associate justices, United States supreme court, Judge Willis Van DeVenter of Wyoming, and Judge Joseph Rucker Lamar of Georgia.

To be judges of the new court of commerce: Martin A. Knapp, now chairman of the interstate commerce commission, for a term of five years.

Robert W. Archbold, now United States district judge for the middle district of Pennsylvania, term of four years.

William H. Hunt, now a judge of the court of customs appeals, formerly United States district judge of the district of Montana, term of three years.

Other nominations were:

John Emmett Carland of South Dakota, to be judge of the new court of commerce for a term of two years. This is a change from the original slate.

Arthur C. Denison, United States district judge for the western district of Michigan, having first been selected for this place.

Julian W. Mack, now judge in the appellate court of the first Illinois district, term of one year.

To be members of the interstate commerce commission: B. H. Meyer of Wisconsin and C. C. McChord of Kentucky.

All of the court nominations were referred to the Senate judiciary committee.

To be postmasters:

Frank C. Barrows, New Bedford, Mass.; Albert C. Landers, Newport, R. I. To be consul-general at Tangier, Morocco, Maxwell Blake of Missouri.

To be consuls: William W. Handley of New York, at Naples, Italy; Carl Bailey Hurst of the district of Columbia, at Lyons, France; Lee J. Keena of Michigan, at Florence, Italy; Marion Letcher of Georgia, at Chihuahua, Mex.; Hunter Sharp of North Carolina, at Belfast, Ireland; Edward D. Winslow of Illinois, at Plauen, Germany.

The appointments to the interstate commerce commission are to fill the vacancies caused by the elevation of Mr. Knapp to the commerce court and the forthcoming retirement of former Senator Francis M. Cockrell of Missouri. The commission will elect its new chairman. The members of the commission who remain are Messrs. Clark, Harlan, Clements, Lane and Protty.

The commerce court is a court created in the amendment in the interstate commerce act, passed in June last by this Congress. The law provides for the appointment of five additional circuit judges by the president, who are to constitute the court, and no two of whom shall be appointed from the same judicial circuit.

The judges so appointed are to serve on the commerce court, and after being relieved from that service are to be assigned to work on the circuits as circuit judges.

The law requires the president to designate in the first appointments the term of years during which the judge appointed shall serve on the commerce court, and the judge designated to sit for five years on this court is to act as the presiding judge. Thereafter the court is to be composed of five judges to be designated by the supreme court from the circuit judges of the United States.

Frederick W. Lehmann of Missouri was confirmed yesterday by the Senate to be solicitor-general of the United States. He succeeds the late Lloyd W. Bowers, who died in office.

DEVELOPING WATER POWER.

Lewiston, Me., Company Will Rush
Work at Vergennes.

Vergennes, Dec. 13.—Developing the water power at the falls has been com-

His Landlady's Advice
Probably Saved His Life

I feel that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root saved my life. I inherited weak kidneys. Very often my urine was bloody and the discharge so frequent and painful that I would have to stay in bed to obtain temporary relief. I consulted good physicians, but the results were disappointing. My landlady advised me to try Swamp-Root as the best root, which I did, and I was quickly relieved.

I continued taking Swamp-Root and my weight has increased fifty pounds. My health is of the best and I have told many others about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and have done a lot of good in this way. Your wonderful medicine is of great value to mankind.

Yours very truly,
J. H. Brubly.

The above statement made before me I declare to be truthful in every detail.

Thomas Marsden,
Notary Public.

Letter to
Dr. Kilmer & Co.,
Binghamton, N. Y.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do for You.

Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Barre Daily Times. For sale at all drug stores. Price, fifty cents and one dollar.

Knees Became Stiff

Five Years of Severe Rheumatism
The cure of Henry J. Goldstein, 14 Barton Street, Boston, Mass., is another victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine has succeeded in many cases where others have utterly failed. Mr. Goldstein says: "I suffered from rheumatism five years. It kept me from business and caused excruciating pain. My knees would become as stiff as steel. I tried many medicines without relief, then took Hood's Sarsaparilla, soon felt much better, and now consider myself entirely cured. I recommend Hood's." Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

MOST SEVERE COLD IS EASILY BROKEN

In Just a Few Hours All Misery From a Bad Cold or the Grippe Will Be Overcome.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound, taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken, will end the grippe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach, limbs or any part of the body.

It promptly relieves the most miserable neuralgia pains, headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this harmless compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects, as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

meeded by the Vergennes Power & Light company. A cofferdam will be built to get the wheel pit ready and also permit the construction of the power house. The work is being done by the Twitchell Lumber company of Lewiston, Me., of which James Swan is manager. Mr. Swan is in charge of the work here with F. C. Keene of Groveton, N. H., as foreman.

Mr. Swan is considered one of the best deep water cofferdam builders in the country and his foreman has just finished overseeing the building of a large power house and grundy mill for wood pulp at East Angus, Canada. A large force will be employed and it is expected that the work will be completed by March 1, 1917.

The power house will be built on the site of the building of the Vergennes National Horse Nail company, which was burned several years ago. The dimensions will be 45x80 feet and will be built of cement and steel. Four water wheels and two generators will separate draft tubes will develop fully 2,500 horsepower.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

"Alias Jimmy Valentine" Is An Oddly Named Play.

"Alias Jimmy Valentine," the oddly named play by Paul Armstrong, which has been running two years at Wallack's theatre, New York, under the direction

"ALIAS JIMMY VALENTINE"
Jimmy Valentine and Rose Lane Learn That They Love One Another.

of Liebler & company, comes to the opera house next Thursday, December 15. "Alias Jimmy Valentine," was written by Mr. Armstrong from a short story by the late O. Henry, called "A Retrieved Reformation." Jimmy is a romantic crook. He is an artist in his line, and that line is safe robbing. He is imaginative and reckless and is so decidedly different from the herd that had he gone wrong in some other way, he would have been an arctic explorer or something equally original. You come upon him first in the warden's office in Sing Sing. He has been sent to prison for ten years by the deathbed revenge of a crook whom he threw from the window of a rapidly moving train, the object being the protection of a lone and fair parlor car passenger.

This passenger is the daughter of a banker and the niece of the lieutenant-governor of New York. Years after the incident, she meets her protector in the prison and learns that he loves her. Ever since his defense of her, she has loved him. Her uncle gives Jimmy a pardon and her father gives him a place in the bank. Everything seems arranged for the reformation of the artistic safe robber, but while he waits for a final word from the girl, two of his old pals come to scare him back to them by pointing out that the police never will let him alone. How this prophecy comes true and how Jimmy puts up the great big moral fight of his adventurous life, spurred on by the love of a good girl, is graphically told in the rapid-fire style of Paul Armstrong.

BARROW ELECTED PRESIDENT.

To Take Place of Powers at Head of Eastern League.

New York, Dec. 13.—The Eastern league of professional baseball clubs met in annual session yesterday, ousted Pat T. Powers of Jersey City from the presidency, which he had held for eighteen years (except one year) and elected Edward G. Barrow of Toronto, recently manager of the Montreal club, to the position.

For the first time in the history of the Eastern league, its session was attended and closely watched by the magnates of the two major leagues. The national agreement expires with the close of next season, and there is grave fear that the Eastern, now in a prosperous condition, will demand recognition as a major league, ranking with the American and National.

With the new president selected, the league decided on a 154-game schedule for next season. The meeting to fix the schedule is to be held in Baltimore on February 6. The season is to start on April 20. A number of protests and other business will be considered to-day. The National league meeting is also scheduled for to-day.

GIFT OF $500,000 TO DARTMOUTH COLLEGE

Edward Tuck Gives That Amount for Strengthening the Teaching Force.

Hanover, N. H., Dec. 13.—The gift of $500,000 for the further enlargement and strengthening of the teaching force of

MELTON

New England's leading Clairvoyant and Palmist, has decided for the benefit of those who have been unable to consult him in Montpelier, to open three days a week in Barre, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, at 30 Pearl St.

To know the future is, in a large measure, to master your own destiny. Those who simply drift sometimes succeed; those who act and work, far more frequently; but those who see beyond to-day usually win. The clever financier sees the future and plans for it. The politician likewise; and SO MAY YOU, if you will. Just as you go to the doctor if you are ill, or lawyer if in trouble, so should you go to the palmist when uncertainty blocks your path. Let him study your hand, as does the physician your case. Do not imagine that one interview will cover ALL YOUR LIFE. It will, however, show you the reality of the claim. YOU ARE TROUBLED in your affairs, making marked changes or finding your undertakings go wrong and business a failure. Something is wrong, but what? PALMISTRY will show you at a glance where the difficulty is, and just what move to make—whether success or defeat will attend your efforts. Melton has helped thousands who were in doubt, changing their business, starting new enterprises or giving up the old ones. He has no rival in this direction. UNHAPPINESS IN FAMILY LIFE, misunderstandings, suspicions and doubts are all recorded in the hand, while MARRIAGE, DIVORCE, LAWSUITS, and DEATH even, are easily detected. When THINGS ARE GOING WRONG and you feel the sands slipping from under your feet, then is the time to see Melton if you want HELP. He comprehends your difficulty and tells you just what to expect. There are thousands who visit Melton yearly, and they are among the very first and best people of this and European countries. PRIVATE AND PERSONAL matters, requiring a clear insight, wise advice and good judgment are among the subjects receiving the most careful attention and skillful handling. You have enemies, are pursued by bad influences or have secret plans you do not wish to discuss—well, Melton can help you here as no one else can. You will feel as if you had laid your burden down when he directs you. The days of worry will be over. TRY HIM AND SEE.

The Lines and What They Mean

THE LIFE LINE shows length of life, health and good and bad events.

THE HEAD LINE, your ability in business and practical affairs and probabilities of success.

THE HEART LINE, your family and domestic affairs, children and general home life.

THE FATE LINE shows the result of all these and the final outcome, whether success or failure, while over the entire hand are all the great events, accidents, etc., out of which life is made. EVERYTHING IS HERE.

YOUR SUCCESS LINE will tell the story of your life, and, read by Melton, will be a guide of lasting value.

Why not have him read your hand? SUCCESS can be attained by using your forces and abilities right. Learn how to make the most out of yourself. Melton will give you a "SUCCESS" lesson quite aside from palmistry. It will show you how to win. Are you in doubt about anything, worried or unhappy, making changes in business, going on journeys or in doubt as to friends or family matters? MELTON IS THE ONE TO CONSULT.

M. La Fontaine, the great writer, says, "Melton saved me serious mistakes. He is a marvel among men."

"He read my hand like an open book."—MARK TWAIN.

No fortune telling, but a truth teller. Those calling for pastime and amusement are invited to stay at home. If you are worried, perplexed or in trouble of any kind, call to-day; to-morrow may be too late. His business is strictly confidential in every particular. Intelligent, high-class patronage solicited—those capable of appreciating the superior qualities of a fine reader.

FIRM BELIEVERS IN PALMISTRY.—Napoleon, the duke of Wellington, Mary Stuart, Lamartine, Balzac, Victor Hugo.

This much certain: Palmistry, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding intellect, this mighty genius, was so impressed by the future read from his hand that he became one of the ardent believers in palmistry. The duke of Wellington, the only conqueror of the great Napoleon, was a part at the head of the list. Bonaparte, the man of destiny, the crowned emperor of half the world, we find in his biography that he was a firm believer in palmistry. This clear-sighted brain, this commanding